FOREWORD

It has been a pleasure to prepare a review of the highlights of Columbia High School for your enjoyment. May this book bring you many pleasant memories of happenings on the campus. We proudly present to you THE COLUMBIAN of 1951

DEDICATION

As we come to the close of our school life there are many to whom we are indeed grateful, but to our Parents who have helped us along through good and bad moments we leave our deepest gratitude. To them, our PARENTS, in sincere acknowledgment of their never-ceasing aid, we do hereby dedicate this Annual.

MOTTO: From School Life Into Life's School

CLASS POEM

Since we began our education,
We've worried parent and relation
We've racked our brain, sweated our brow,
And made it through the grades, somehow.
Some of us can speak French very well,
While others think Algebra is swell.

We know we can count "ec" and "ag"
And typing also, in the bag
Now at graduation we've arrived,
To find schooling's been survived.
At last we leave here calm and cool,
And go "From School Life into Life's School"

Jimmy Alexander

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

It was in September of '39 that we as first-graders, made our appearance at Columbia High School. Never had anyone seen such a brilliant group of youngsters. Mrs. Camille Everton and Mrs. Clara Alexander discovered many, until then, hidden talents. They succeeded in transferring us to the second grade in time for Miss Ireland and Mrs. Rachel Spencer to teach us to take naps and really read and write. Reading and writing were a cinch. Naps, however, presented a problem even to us Now, I can't understand, for the life of me, why we didn't take advantage of such pleasures

In the third grade, Mrs. Helen Melson struggled to lead us through the chain gang in time for Miss Martha Sykes to guide us in the fourth grade. Long will be remembered the old tin can wars and the importance some of us felt when we were made Captain of our row, for a week, for learning more spelling words correctly or being better students in other studies

Miss Rose Bateman proved to be the prettiest teacher we had ever had. Her understanding and helpfulness made us hate to leave her, but despite all our affections we learned to love Miss Maggie Owens when we entered the sixth grade. It was during that year that several of us learned sections of the dictionary because of ill conduct. We thought a lot of Miss Maggie and when she passed away last year it was a blow to everyone.

Mrs. Florence Chaplin was another of our very nice teachers. Her sympathy and encouragement made each of us feel important. Crying when summer vacation came was practically unheard of until the seventh grade when we broke down and said goodbye to Mrs. Chaplin. Then we were in the eighth grade. This was the year that Mrs. Gladys Midyette came to Columbia and her teaching us will not be forgotten. She surely is due a bouquet of roses for the many weeks she spent in the hospital recovering from laryngitis suffered by shouting reprimands at us. I guess everyone has their fling. Believe me this was the year for us. Many distinguished visitors came to talk with us, including the principal and superintendent. Their attentions were greatly respected.

Nearly everyone gets acquainted with their upper classmen during their first year of high school, which we didn't have to do! Anyone not acquainted with us was spared only by running when we appeared. Really menace wasn't the word to be used for us. One should be sociable, shouldn't one? Miss Alyce Sumrell and Miss Etta Frances Hooper were with us that year. You have never seen or heard of so many parties and disputes. Miss Sumrell finally gave more parties but Miss Hooper taught us the real meaning of "Shut Up" and "Get Out." Don't let's forget the new friends we had! Alma Dean Cohoon, Irvin Everton, Nanette Jones, and Eudora Patrick were here from Gum Neck. All four proved themselves worthy of our highest expectations as had Russell Spencer and Allan Cohoon who came from Gum Neck in the seventh and eighth grades respectively.

By passing a minimum of three subjects we found ourselves Sophomores. Gone were the days when we had to be initiated and looked down upon. Mrs. Jane Tilson and Mr. Horace Thompson instructed us that year. At that stage of our high school career we practiced using the balconies as they should be used.

PROPHECY

Ooh! Boy, what a headache! Let's see what day is this ? Oh yes, June 1st, 1975. My headache must be from the party last night. What party? Why the reunion of the 1951 graduation class, of course.

Oh! My eye is really black. Wonder how that happened. Oh yes, now I remember. I made a pass at the lady wrestler, Mary Basnight, and she stuck my head through the television set.

Nan Simmons, who is the tattooed lady in a circus, nearly stopped the party when she began showing her tattoos. She came all the way from Seattle, Washington, for the party. Amanda Reynolds, who is billed by the same circus as "The World's Thinnest Woman," came with her.

Allan Cohoon is now employed as a taster for Schenley's Distilleries, Inc. Most folks claim that he is paid over fifty thousand dollars a year but actually it costs him two dollars a pint.

The pictures of Sterling Hamilton and Irvin Everton have been shown in every newspaper in the country Sterling's picture is labeled "before taking HADACOL," while Irvin's is titled "after."

Bobby Everton has become quite a "Romeo" and has been tried twice for bigamy but was released when he proved that he was irresistible and that the women forced him to marry them.

We all missed Billy Spruill but he was unable to attend since he is in the middle of an important experiment. He is trying to prove that a human can sleep for a week. He says that he has never actually been wide awake.

Edna Etheridge became famous when she discovered that "The Thing" was a picture of Irene and Kilroy driving the Mule Train with a load of HADACOL.

Gaye Hopkins was once a professional football player, but she was so rough that now they pay her not to play

Nanette Jones is bouncer at a bar in New York but she is thinking of quitting because things are too dull She has not had to throw anyone out since she broke Joe Louis' back.

Ethel Rhodes became a nurse. She fell in love and married a patient who said that he was Senator LeBlanc, but she got a divorce when she found that he was actually No. 725694 from Dix Hill.

One of the high spots of the party was when Ray McClees, a jetcycle salesman, and his assistant, Jean Woodley, did their version of the Charleston. Ray claims that by riding his jetcycle regularly he will do the Charleston on his one hundredth birthday.

During the entire night the rival musicians, Jimmy Alexander and Milton Snell, tried to outplay each other. Finally they both collapsed from exhaustion.

Alma Dean Cohoon, Carolyn Simmons, and Eudora Patrick, who have long been housewives, spent the first part of the night worrying about what . . . (Continued on page 44)

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Township of Columbia,
County of Tyrrell,
State of North Carolina.

We, the Seniors of Columbia High School, being of unsound mind and body, bestowing with envy our blessings upon our lower classmen, do ordain and witness this Last Will and Testament of the Senior Class of '51.

We having passed this phase of our education, wish to dispose of our properties in the following ways:

Article I

To dear old C.H.S.' we leave our honor and devotion through the years.

Article II

To our Principal, Mr. Tilson, and to the Faculty we leave our sincere thanks and appreciation for what they have done for us in the past.

Article III

Section 1

To the oncoming Seniors we do intrust:

The great dignity of the Class of '51, the respect we have received from our lower classmen, and the ability to produce the '52 Columbian without argument or dissention.

Section 2

To the oncoming Juniors we leave the right to criticize and argue with the Seniors.

Section 3

To the oncoming Sophomores we leave our ability to remain quiet through all classes.

Section 4

To the oncoming Freshmen we leave the ability to take all the punishment to be dealt them by the Sophomores.

Article IV

To the individuals specified the following generously confer:

I, Jimmy Alexander, leave my curly hair to Floyd Rhodes.

I, Allan Cohoon, leave my taxi service to Billy Parisher. May his load be heavy.

I, Bobby Everton, leave my ability to go steady to Jimmy Pinner.

I, Sterling Hamilton, leave my height to Carl Curlings.

I, Ray McClees, leave my financing abilities to Hugh Thomas Davenport. May he use them as wisely as I.

I, Earl Rhodes, leave my quiet ways to Jane Cohoon.

I, Milton Snell, leave my ability to play football to Phillip Phelps.

I, Russell Spencer, leave my two-timing ways to Jean Morris.

I, Billy Spruill, leave my meddlesome ways to Derl Owens.

I, Thomas Voliva, leave my bus-driving abilities to Egbert Liverman.

I, Troy Weatherly, leave my love for the Army to Hubert Jackson.

I, Mary Basnight, leave my agility to Pat Everton.

I, Alma Dean Cohoon, leave my ability to get and hold a man to Dora Ann Roughton.

I, Edna Etheridge, leave my quiet ways to Jean Swain.

I, Gaye Hopkins, leave my big feet to Lenora and Billy Spencer, since neither of the two is equipped to handle the load.

I, Nanette Jones, leave my neatness and attractiveness to Carolyn Brickhouse.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY (Contd.)

Without too much broin-teasing we became Juniors. Our Junior year proved to be the storm after the calm. "Seven Keys to Baldpate," the most unusual play ever given here, was presented on December 2, by us. Superior acting and lighting effects made it a terrific success. To increase our excitement the class rings came on December 6. It must have been at least a month before any Junior was seen without their third finger projected into someone's face. March 24 found us in the auditorium putting on the last minute finishing touches before the big moment when our guests, the Seniors and our dates, would behold the scenic tropical islands and palm trees from the decks of the S. S. Junior-Senior. Had the boys known how true this scene might prove to be in the coming years they probably wouldn't have enjoyed it quite so much. Brenda Hales and Jimmy Smith, our mascots entertained us with a weiner roast ot the beach and Mrs. Tilson entertained us with delicious hamburgers at her house. Hearing Mrs. Tilson exploin thot she wouldn't be teaching the next year brought tears to the girls eyes and the boys had to leave. She was truly a great teacher for us.

Mr. Boteman was our instructor during the Senior year. He proved to us that you can do things for yourself if you reolly try. The annual was published by us ond we surely obtained experience from that task. The Juniors that year didn't argue with us ond we leorned to think a lot of them. It seemed nice not to have the usual Junior-Senior feuds. Although we had to attend school in the auditorium it wos well worth the time and headoches to see the co-operation we got fram our lower classmen. Again we were entertoined by our mascots, this time at Carleys. Cocoanut pie and coffee certainly were enjoyable to us.

And now as we look forword to finishing our Senior year we are also looking toward the Junior-Senior Banquet which we hope will be given us by the Juniors and to presenting a Senior ploy.

As we leove school life and go into life's school let us say "Farewell to our classmates who have been with us for the past twelve years and also to the faculty and our school friends."
